

Book Trailer Reflection

Transferring: It helps give emotions and feelings because the book itself doesn't give you powerful questions that you could just copy down.

Thinking Card: I thought for myself the thinking card wasn't really helpful either than helping me on the planning template. You could just skip to the planning template. The planning template has the same step of the thinking card on it.

Planning Template: This helped a lot because it gave you the emotion of the book and without it, it would be hard just to start right away onto the storyboard.

Storyboard: This was probably the most important step of thinking ahead before our book trailer. The storyboard was almost like a rough draft of our book trailer. We pulled out picture ideas from it, and it just helped us make a more powerful book trailer.

Book Trailer: Overall the whole book trailer process was really fun! The book trailer was easy except for a few parts like, finding music, pictures, and organizing your book trailer to make sense. But once you got all the "supplies" for your book trailer it got easier and easier. I think the book trailer helped us think powerfully, because if you think about it, it is pretty amazing on what all of our book trailers turned into. It was sort of hard finding the exact pictures you wanted from ~~...~~
